

THE REAL DEAL

www.therealdeal.com

NEW YORK REAL ESTATE NEWS

02/12/09 at 12:40PM

Dolly Lenz, Bracha Group take Elliman's top honors

The Bracha Group, which split twice in the past two months, won the top group based on the number of transaction and gross commission income (GCI). Dolly Lenz, who has been making headlines for losing listings, won the top individual broker by transaction and GCI, as she has for the past several years.

In the top group by transaction category, Bracha's group was followed by the Barak/Blackburn Group, the Shemesh Group, who won the top award last year, the Sukenik Group and the Jacky Teplitzky Team, which one the top group award based on GCI last year. Bracha's runners-up in the GCI category were Leonard Steinberg's team and the Shemesh Group. Teplitzky's team fell from number 1 last year to number 9. Teplitzky was upset last year that she didn't win the top broker award.

After Lenz, the runners-up in the individual category by transaction were Michelle Mizrahi and Robert Nicoletti. In individuals ranked by GCI, Efraim Tessler and Sachiko Goodman were Lenz's runners-up.

Top individuals, transaction:

#1

#2

#3

Left to right: Dolly Lenz, Michelle Mizrahi, Robert Nicoletti

Top individuals, GCI:

#1

#2

#3

Left to right: Dolly Lenz, Efraim Tessler, Sachiko Goodman

Top group, GCI

#1

#2

#3

Left to right: Ilan Bracha, Leonard Steinberg, Tamir Shemesh