

NEW YORK OBSERVER

March 23, 2011

Real Estate

It's Free to Look: Yeah, There Are Two Private Roof Decks

By Matt Coyne

Come on, how could it NOT be the Home of the Week?

Prudential Douglas Elliman

This $3.7 million condo in Gramercy, listed over at Prudential Douglas Elliman, was recently Metro Residential's Home of the Week. And, honestly who doesn't want to live in the Home of the Week?

The property's 2,500 square feet of space includes two bedrooms and 2.5 bathrooms wrapped up in a townhouse package. The bedrooms and a home office are located upstairs, with the downstairs housing an "enormous" living, dining and entertainment space.

And did we mention there are two private roof decks? Yeah, there are two private roof decks.

Prudential Douglas Elliman

1 of 9

The stairs up to the office and the bedrooms.

Prudential Douglas Elliman

2 of 9

The living area.

Prudential Douglas Elliman

3 of 9

The living area from another angle, with the dining area in the background.

Prudential Douglas Elliman

4 of 9

The kitchen.

Prudential Douglas Elliman

5 of 9

The listing notes there's a private gym, but why go there when you can just ride the stationary bike and watch TV on a flatscreen?

Prudential Douglas Elliman

6 of 9

One of the bedrooms.

Prudential Douglas Elliman

7 of 9

One of the two full baths.

Prudential Douglas Elliman

8 of 9

The floorplan.